More Than Just a Game

Events Surrounding the Championship Game make the WUSA Founders Cup Weekend Fun for the Whole Family

So much emotion and excitement will fill the air in Atlanta on Saturday, August 24. Fans will line up to see their favorite WUSA players amidst a soccer atmosphere that will be awe-inspiring. Sounds like one intense championship match, huh? Actually, this is what can be expected before the players take the field at Herndon Stadium.

The HealthSouth Founders Cup FanFest presented by the Atlanta Journal-Constitution and the Atlanta Beat at Centennial Olympic Park in downtown Atlanta will kick off the festivities of Championship Saturday. Filled with interactive activities, skills contests, player appearances and much more, this soccer celebration is one fans won't want to miss. The FanFest will begin at 11:00 a.m. ET and will run till 3:00 p.m. Admission is free and is open to the public.

Many WUSA sponsors will have a presence during the Founders Cup FanFest. Hyundai will have a 40-by-40 foot tent filled with interactive games. Several Hyundai automobiles will be on hand for spectators to observe. Maytag will host its "Stain Off Event". Children will have the opportunity to make a mess while assisting the people at Maytag in the demonstration of their washing machines. The WUSA partner will have a full array of appliances to demonstrate to the public. The "Maytag Men" will also be on site to announce the winner of the "Maytag Outstanding Soccer Mom Search". Gillette for Women Venus will provide an interactive tent for the FanFest. Children can also take part in the "Gillette for Women Venus Ultimate Soccer Goddess Contest", which provides kids a chance to show how fanatical they are about soccer. They will have the opportunity to paint their hair and become the Ultimate Soccer Goddess fan for Founders Cup II.

"FanFest is a chance for fans, especially families, to experience soccer fun at its best," said Bill Knight Executive Director of Founders Cup II. "There will be player appearances, sponsor giveaways, clinics, autographs and plenty of interactive games, in the beautiful setting of Centennial Olympic Park. It'll be a great way to 'kick-off' a full day of championship soccer festivities here in Atlanta. And, it's FREE!"

What championship game would be complete without a gala dinner? The WUSA Founders Ball will take place on Friday August 23 at the Renaissance Waverly Hotel in north Atlanta. The dinner will provide a closer look at the 2002 WUSA season by honoring outstanding achievements on and off the field. The semi-formal event will be a place for all to reflect on the WUSA season and to honor such award winners as the league's Most Valuable Player, Coach of the Year and Rookie of the Year.

After the champion has been crowned and the Founders Cup has been raised, it will be time to unwind. The WUSA Postgame Party at eleven50 in Midtown Atlanta will be the location of this year's postgame bash. The WUSA will celebrate another great season with many of its invited guests. The festivities will begin at 8:00 p.m. and will conclude a spectacular weekend.

"The events surrounding Founders Cup II help to enhance the festive mood of the weekend," said WUSA President/CEO Lynn Morgan. "The weekend will be a celebration for everyone where we are able to give something back to our fans and our sponsors."

2002 WUSA PLAYOFF COACHES BIOGRAPHIES

Marcia McDermott

Head Coach – Carolina Courage
Second season with the club
Career WUSA Regular Season Record:
19-17-6 (63 pts.)

The first and only female head coach in the Women's United Soccer Association, Marcia McDermott orchestrated the Carolina Courage's incredible worst-to-first turnaround in 2002. After a 6-12-3 record last year that saw the team finish last in the WUSA, Carolina won the 2002 regular season title with a 13-5-3 (42 pts.) record.

Prior to becoming the Courage's head coach on December 7, 2000, McDermott was a successful head coach in the college ranks, building women's soccer programs at Maryland, Arkansas, and most recently Northwestern University. McDermott's coaching career began at the University of North Carolina - Greensboro, where she served as an assistant in 1988, shortly after graduating from the University of North Carolina. She took the top job at Maryland in 1989, and then coached the Razorbacks from 1990-92. In 1994, she accepted the challenge of building a soccer program from scratch, and headed to Evanston, Ill. In her six years at Northwestern (59-66-9), McDermott achieved considerable success in the Big 10, guiding the Wildcats to NCAA tournament berths in 1996 and 1998. Most recently, McDermott assisted former teammate April Heinrichs as a scout for the U.S. women's national team.

McDermott, who turns 37 on August 16, has a championship pedigree, having won three NCAA titles in her All-American career at North Carolina, including a 1986 season in which the McClean, Va., native set the Tar Heel single-season record for assists with 23. McDermott was also an early member of the women's national team (1986 & 1988), scoring four goals and earning seven caps for the United States.

Born August 16, 1965 in Lafayette, Ind., McDermott received her bachelor of arts in English from the University of North Carolina. She resides in Hillsborough, N.C.

Tom Stone

Head Coach – Atlanta Beat
Second season with the club
Career WUSA Regular Season Record:
21-13-8 (71 pts.)

The only one of the four WUSA Playoffs head coaches to guide a team to Founders Cup, Tom Stone steered the Atlanta Beat to its second consecutive playoff berth in 2002. Stone's Beat finished in fourth place during the regular season, compiling an 11-9-1 (34 pts.) record, making Stone and the Beat the lone WUSA team to record double-digit wins in the league's two-year history.

Stone guided the Atlanta Beat to the first regular season title in WUSA history and a berth in the Inaugural Founders Cup Championship game in 2001. Under Stone's tutelage, Atlanta posted a 10-4-7 (37 pts.) regular season record and defeated the Philadelphia Charge in the WUSA semifinal en route to the championship match, where the Beat fell on penalty kicks to the Bay Area (now San Jose) CyberRays.

The 36-year-old Stone was named the first head coach of the Beat on August 14, 2000. Before joining the WUSA, Stone was the director of coaching for the Colorado Rush soccer club, winning 35 Colorado State Cup titles, 13 Far West regional titles and seven national championships dating back to 1991. In addition, Stone worked as color television analyst for Major League Soccer's Colorado Rapids. Stone coached the W-League's Denver Diamonds, posting a 50-11-0 record with two division championships and an appearance in the W-League's national finals. He also assisted the U.S. women's national team as a scout for the 1999 Women's World Cup. Stone is a USSF "A"-licensed coach.

Stone began his soccer career in his native Dallas, where he was a two-time high school All-American. He played professional soccer for Le Havre, F. C. in the French Second Division, and for the Washington Stars and Colorado Foxes (A-League), winners of the 1991 and 1992 National Professional Championships.

A 1988 graduate of Duke University, Stone was a three-time All-Atlantic Coast Conference (ACC) selection for the Blue Devils, and scored the game-winning goal in Duke's 1986 National Championship victory.

Born January 17, 1966, on Scott AFB in Bellville, Ill., Stone currently resides in Atlanta.

Mark Krikorian

Head Coach – Philadelphia Charge
Second season with the club
Career WUSA Regular Season Record:
20-12-10 (70 pts.)

Once again, Mark Krikorian overcame the skeptics and guided the Philadelphia Charge to its second consecutive postseason appearance and a second-place finish in the WUSA standings. Most reporters pegged Philadelphia as a middle of the pack team heading into the 2002 season.

In his second season as head coach of the Charge, Krikorian overcame the loss of his best player (Kelly Smith) and relied on an unknown Frenchwoman (Marinette Pichon) to lead the club to an 11-4-6 record (39 pts). Krikorian's 2002 performance follows up on his first year at the helm where he led a relatively young Charge squad to a 9-8-4 mark, a fourth-place finish and a postseason berth.

Prior to being named the first head coach of the Charge on Nov. 20, 2000, Krikorian compiled an impressive 168-49-6 coaching record during 11 seasons in the college ranks. He joined Philadelphia from the University of Hartford, where he recorded a 75-30-3 mark, leading the women's soccer team to four NCAA Tournament appearances in five years.

Before taking over at Hartford, Krikorian compiled a 93-19-2 record as women's soccer coach at Franklin Pierce College in Rindge, N.H., from 1990-96. During his tenure, Franklin Pierce won the 1994 and 1995 Division II national championships. In addition, Krikorian earned the 1992 and 1995 NSCAA Division II National Coach of the Year, was a four-time NSCAA Division II New England Coach of the Year and earned two New England Collegiate Conference Coach of the Year awards.

Born on September 13, 1955, Krikorian originally entered the college coaching ranks as an assistant men's soccer coach for the University of Maine at Farmington from 1988-90. He played soccer at St. Anselm College in Manchester, N.H., where he was an All-New England selection in 1983 and graduated with a degree in History. He earned his master's degree in Education from Keene (N.H.) State College in 1994.

Originally from Derry, N.H., Krikorian, 46, was born Sept. 13, 1955. He and his wife Linda had their first child, Alexandra, in November 2000.

Jim Gabarra

Head Coach – Washington Freedom
Second season with the club
Career WUSA Regular Season Record:
17-17-8 (59 pts.)

Gabarra's Washington Freedom club entered the 2002 season looking to prove the skeptics wrong. Washington was picked by many soccer reporters to once again finish at the bottom of the WUSA standings in 2002. After all, the club went 2-10-1 during its final 13 games in 2001 to finish with a 6-12-3 (21 pts.) record, good for seventh place in the WUSA.

Following a slow start, Gabarra and his coaching staff strategically utilized superstar Mia Hamm and German national team standout Steffi Jones to finish in third place with an 11-5-5 (38 pts.) record in 2002.

Named head coach of the Washington Freedom on August 10, 2000, Gabarra is concluding his second year at the helm of D.C.'s women's professional soccer team.

Prior to his appointment, Gabarra, 42, was head coach of the World All-Stars during the 1999 and 2000 Toys "R" Us United States women's national team indoor Victory Tour. Gabarra's extensive background in soccer includes head coaching tenures with the Washington Warthogs in the CISL from 1994-1998, head coach in the adidas Summer League, 1998, and stints as the player/coach for the Milwaukee Wave of the NPSL from 1992-1993 and Louisville Thunder of the AISA from 1985-1987.

Gabarra was a member of the U.S. national team from 1986-1989, earning 14 caps, and played for the U.S. Olympic Team at the Seoul Olympic Games in 1988. He played indoor and outdoor soccer professionally from 1982-1994 in the ASL, AISA, MISL, CISL, and NPSL. Gabarra was the U.S. national indoor team captain from 1986-1996, and played on the team achieving the highest tournament finish ever by a U.S. Men's national team at FIFA's Indoor World Championships - capturing the Silver medal in 1992 and the Bronze medal in 1989.

Born September 22, 1959 in Key West, Fla., Gabarra currently resides in Annapolis, Md. with his wife Carin, a member of the first U.S. Women's World Cup Championship Team in 1991 and current head coach at the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis. The couple has three children.

NOTES: Until Atlanta grabbed its first win over Carolina on July 27, the Courage had dominated the Beat, going 4-0-1 vs. Atlanta in the first five matches ... Charmaine Hooper scored for Atlanta in the 68th minute for the win ... Carolina's German national team striker Birgit Prinz missed an open net and struck the post in the first half after getting loose on counters, making Beat goalkeeper Briana Scurry scramble for the save ... The match was a physical one that saw Prinz and Atlanta defender Sharolta Nonen shove each other in the 90th minute ... After Carolina's Nel Fettig was issued a yellow card for fouling Atlanta's Burt in stoppage time, Courage midfielder Tiffany Roberts expressed her opinion to the referee and was sent off when she received a second yellow card.

KEY MATCHUP: (Carolina M Hege Riise vs Atlanta M/D Kylie Bivens) – The majority of the Courage goals come from the duo of Fotopoulos and Prinz, but the offense runs through Riise, who is one of the game's best passers. Riise led the Courage and ranked second in the league in assists with 13 and also notched six goals. Bivens, one of the toughest defensive midfielders, will have the duty of making Riise mark her, as she too is good going forward.

NOTES: Washington's Mia Hamm played the entire 90 minutes in the 1-1 draw at RFK Stadium on July 14, her only start of the season ... Hamm was still recovering from knee surgery and did not play against Philadelphia in the other two matches in 2002 ... Philadelphia went 7-1-3 at home in 2002, but Washington's 5-3-2 road mark ranked second in the WUSA.

KEY MATCHUP: (Philadelphia F Marinette Pichon vs Washington D Carrie Moore) -- The Freedom's Moore marked Pichon brilliantly throughout the July 14 match at RFK Stadium, holding the French international to two shots. Although Pichon finished second in the WUSA with 14 goals, she scored just once in her final four games.

FOUNDERS CUP I

August 25, 2001
Foxboro, Mass.

Bay Area CyberRays 3, Atlanta Beat 3 (Bay Area wins 4-2 on Penalty Kicks)

In a riveting conclusion to the inaugural WUSA season, the Bay Area CyberRays defeated the Atlanta Beat on penalty kicks, 4-2, to become the first team to hoist the coveted Founders Cup on August 25, 2001.

Atlanta's Sun Wen had put the CyberRays behind 3-2 in the 83rd minute, but Tisha Venturini's 86th minute reply leveled the match at 3-3 and forced overtime and eventually penalty kicks. Julie Murray scored the CyberRays' second goal, then knocked home the championship-clinching penalty (4-2) on her way to being named the game's Most Valuable Player.

Brandi Chastain's opportunistic goal gave the CyberRays a 1-0 lead in the sixth minute, but the Beat battled back to lead 2-1 after just 14 minutes, thanks to goals by Kylie Bivens and Charmaine Hooper. The CyberRays drew even on Murray's goal in the 43rd minute to set the stage for a tense and thrilling second half.

The second half was played more close to the vest with neither team looking to concede the game-winner. But in the 83rd minute, Atlanta's Nikki Serlenga sent a free kick to the middle of the penalty area where Parlow headed it far post for second-half substitute Sun Wen. Sun Wen settled the ball, nutmegged Gina Ocegüera, and scored the go-ahead goal past Beene.

A few minutes later, Sissi sent a free kick to Katia, whose ball to the middle found Tisha Venturini. Serlenga and Sharolta Nonen were there for the Beat, but the ball leaked out to Venturini, who cleaned up to even the score for the third time.

Neither team took many chances during two 7:30-minute overtime periods. In penalty kicks, Beene set the early tone by saving Sun Wen's shot in the opening round. Venturini scored for the CyberRays to put them up 1-0. Two rounds later, Hooper missed wide right and the Beat was finished. The CyberRays made all four of their penalties to take the title. Julie Murray booted home the game winner.

Atlanta Beat

Head Coach: Tom Stone

2002 Finish: 11-9-1 (34 points), Fourth Place during the regular season.

2002 Offensive Ranking: 5th (tied), (34 goals, 1.62 per game)

2002 Defensive Ranking: 2nd (tied), (29 goals, 1.38 per game)

Picked by nearly every media outlet to win it all in 2002, Atlanta struggled out of the gates, going 1-3 to start the season. Head Coach Tom Stone and his staff made some personnel adjustments, and by mid-May Atlanta was back on track, winning four consecutive games.

Up front, Atlanta possesses two of the WUSA's most accomplished forwards at the international level in Canadian Charmaine Hooper and American Cindy Parlow. Hooper led the WUSA in game-winning goals in 2002 with six, and is one of the most intense competitors in the league. Parlow's five goals were a bit of a disappointment to many, but the U.S. national team star is a big-game player, as evidenced by her two goals in last year's playoff win over Philadelphia.

The Beat's midfield is one of the league's best, as Homare Sawa and Nikki Serlenga keep opposing defenses off balance, while Liping Wang and Kylie Bivens (when she plays in the midfield) provide a variety of options. Defensively, goalkeeper Briana Scurry anchors the back, with Sharolta Nonen, Lisa Kyzkowski, and the Augustyniak twins all veterans of Founders Cup I.

The 2002 regular season was one of streaks for Atlanta, as the Beat had two four-game winning streaks and one three-match losing streak. With a solid 2-0 victory over Philadelphia – a team that had previously defeated Atlanta two times -- in the Beat's final regular season match on August 10, Hooper and company hope that another winning streak is in the works.

Five to Watch

Charmaine Hooper (F) – Atlanta's leading scorer for the second consecutive year (11g, 3a, 25 pts.), the 34-year-old Hooper is the Beat's oldest player. The Canadian international is a strong physical presence who is comfortable taking on opponents or playing with her back to the goal.

Homare Sawa (M) – The Japanese national team standout more than doubled her 2001 goal production, finding the back of the net seven times in 2002 after scoring just three goals last year. She possesses superb dribbling skills and the ability to beat players one-on-one.

Nikki Serlenga (M) – She started all 21 games and came up big on numerous occasions. One of the best in the WUSA on set pieces, she takes nearly all of Atlanta's free kicks and corner kicks. Her 30-yard blast against Philadelphia on August 10 will receive strong consideration for WUSA Goal of the Year.

Kylie Bivens (D/M) – The rising U.S. national team standout started the season in midfield, but she eventually moved back to defense where she played the majority of the 2001 season. She should see action at both midfielder and defender in the playoffs, but a heal injury has slowed her lately.

Briana Scurry (GK) – The veteran remains one of the world's best goalkeepers, especially in big games. She possesses excellent athletic ability and a deep knowledge of the goalkeeping position, but Scurry's ball skills have hurt the Beat defense at times in 2002.

It has been a storybook season for the Carolina Courage. After finishing in last place with a 6-12-3 (21 pts.) record in 2001, Carolina did a complete 180 and captured the WUSA regular season championship in 2002.

Carolina Head Coach Marcia McDermott made a number of personnel changes that played key roles in the club's amazing turnaround. Newcomers Birgit Prinz, Danielle Slaton and Unni Lehn made significant impacts, especially Prinz, the German national team standout who finished tied (with teammate Danielle Fotopoulos) for second in WUSA scoring with 32 points (12g, 8a) despite playing in just 14 games. In addition, San Jose castoff Venus James and rookies Meghan Anderson and Katie Barnes add scoring punch off the bench.

Carolina's offense features three players who are sure to receive their share of Most Valuable Player votes. Prinz, Fotopoulos and Norwegian international Hege Riise present a multitude of problems for opposing defenses. Fotopoulos and Prinz tied for second in WUSA scoring while Prinz's 13 assists tied for second in the league.

Defensively, longtime U.S. national team captain Carla Overbeck was hampered by a knee injury that limited her to nine games, but Slaton (the first overall pick in the WUSA draft), Nel Fettig, Staci Burt and Staci Wilson protected goalkeeper Kristin Luckenbill.

After a WUSA record five-game winning streak, Carolina lost three straight in July before finishing 2-0-1 in its final three games.

Five to Watch

Danielle Fotopoulos (F) – She is the only WUSA player to ever record double digits in goals and assists in the same season (11g, 10a, 32 pts. in 2002). The soccer mom finished tied for second in WUSA scoring in 2002.

Birgit Prinz (F) – The German national team star dominates at times. She finished tied for second in WUSA scoring (12g, 8a, 32 pts.) despite playing in just 14 games. No other top 10 scorer played in less than 18 games. She has size (5-9), dribbling skills and speed.

Hege Riise (M) – The creative playmaker's 13 assists tied for second in the WUSA. She possesses great vision and passing ability that is rivaled by few players in the history of women's soccer. In addition, Riise also is deadly off set pieces.

Tiffany Roberts (M) – Considered by many to be the WUSA's top defensive midfielder, Roberts is critical to stopping the opponents' attack before it reaches the Carolina defensive third. Roberts, who was a starter on the 1995 U.S. World Cup team when she was 18, played herself back into the national team picture as she earned her 81st cap in a 4-0 win over Norway on July 21.

Kristin Luckenbill (GK) – The Dartmouth product led the WUSA with 114 saves, the league's only goalkeeper to go above the century mark. How important is she to the team's success? Head coach Marcia McDermott played Luckenbill every minute during the 2002 regular season.

Most reporters pegged Philadelphia as a middle-of-the-pack team heading into the 2002 season. And that was before attacking midfielder Kelly Smith, who was on her way to an MVP season, went down with a season-ending knee injury on June 1.

Once again, the Charge overcame the skeptics and cruised to its second consecutive postseason appearance and a second-place finish in the WUSA standings. With Smith gone for the season, Head Coach Mark Krikorian relied on an unknown Frenchwoman (Marinette Pichon) to lead the club to an 11-4-6 record (39 pts).

Pichon, who tied for fourth in WUSA scoring with 29 points, was the only Philadelphia player to finish among the league's top 20 scorers. "Frenchie" (as she is know to teammates) spent the majority of the season playing as the sole forward in a 4-5-1 formation.

The Charge midfield features international standouts Lorrie Fair and Zhao Linhong, but it was Arizona State rookie Stacey Tullock who came on strong at the end of the regular season, scoring two goals during the Charge's four games in August.

Defensively, Philadelphia allowed the lowest number of goals in the WUSA. Jennifer Tietjen, Erica Iverson, Jenny Benson and Heather Mitts kept opposing teams off the scoreboard in the first 15 minutes of each game until Atlanta's Nikki Serlenga scored in the final game of the regular season. Goalkeeper Melissa Moore is one of two netminders in the playoffs with postseason experience (Atlanta's Briana Scurry is the other).

Five to Watch

Marinette Pichon (F) – Many soccer experts questioned how the French national team standout would adapt to the WUSA. Pichon's sophisticated runs and clinical finishing resulted in 14 goals (2nd in the WUSA). However, should Philadelphia advance to Founders Cup II, Pichon will play a World Cup qualifier in France on Aug. 23 and fly into Atlanta on gameday to play for the Charge.

Lorrie Fair (M) – The U.S. national team regular doesn't put up big scoring numbers (0g, 5a, 5 pts.), but she orchestrates the Charge offense with her smooth play on the ball and excellent vision. Also, Fair has been a winner everywhere she has played – college, pros and international level.

Zhao Lihong (M) – After a slow start, the Chinese national team star came on strong, leading the Charge in assists with eight. Long considered to be one of the best flank midfielders in the world, Lihong has deceptive speed and excellent ball skills.

Jennifer Tietjen (D) – While other Charge defenders may generate more publicity and national team call-ups, Tietjen has been the glue that held together the WUSA's stingiest defense. The central defender also had a goal and three assists this season.

Melissa Moore (GK) – The former San Diego castoff has developed into one of the WUSA's steadiest goalkeepers. Krikorian was so confident in Moore that he traded World Cup '99 veteran Saskia Webber during the offseason to New York. Moore's 1.00 goals against average led the WUSA.

Picked by many soccer experts and prominent journalists to finish at the bottom of the WUSA standings in 2002, the Washington Freedom continued its losing ways early in the season. Coming off a 2001 campaign where the club finished tied for last place in the WUSA and went 2-10-1 in its final 13 games, Washington was mired in sixth place with a 2-4-3 (9 pts.) record prior to June 12.

So what happened June 12? Well, U.S. national team star Mia Hamm made her 2002 Freedom debut. She played in only 506 minutes (she comes on at halftime as a sub), but the world's all-time leading scorer at the international level led her team to a 9-1-2 record (8-1-2 with Hamm in the lineup) since returning from knee surgery on June 12. The Freedom picked up 29 points in its final 12 matches to finish 11-5-5 (38 pts.), while securing its first playoff berth.

But it wasn't just Hamm, as German national team standout Steffi Jones steadied the defense and goalkeeper Siri Mullinix made many big saves to keep Washington in a number of games.

The loss of defensive midfielder Lindsay Stoecker to a season-ending knee injury was a blow at midseason, but Carrie Moore helped fill the void as the club's defensive stopper. Defenders Jen Grubb and Emmy Barr, who each played in all 21 games, also stepped up their level of play as the Freedom went from one of the league's worst defenses on opening day to allowing the second lowest goals in the WUSA in 2002.

Riding a four-game winning streak into the playoffs, Jim Gabarra's club will be tough to stop.

Five to Watch

Mia Hamm (F) – She was the most exciting player to watch during the final two weeks of the regular season, registering four goals and four assists in the final three Freedom regular season matches. Hamm finished 12th in WUSA scoring (8g, 6a, 22 pts.) despite having played just 506 minutes (which equates to 5.6 full games).

Abby Wambach (F) – The WUSA's leading rookie scorer (10g, 9 a, 29 pts. – tied for fourth in overall scoring), the 5-foot-10 Wambach powers through opposing defenses. She was playing her best soccer toward the end of the regular season when she started to creatively take on players and generate scoring opportunities.

Jen Grubb (D) – The heart of the Freedom's defense, Grubb has played every minute of every game during the Freedom's two seasons. One of the best markers in the WUSA, Grubb will also go forward from time to time. She had two goals in 2002.

Steffi Jones (D) – Washington was giving up a large number of goals prior to Jones' June 8 debut. But the Freedom ended up with a 1.38 goals against average, the second lowest in the WUSA.

Siri Mullinix (GK) – After undergoing offseason shoulder surgery, Mullinix did not make her first start until May 18. She set a WUSA record with 13 saves at Boston on June 1 and ended up with a 1.19 goals against average, the second best mark in the WUSA. Her 84 saves ranked fourth in the WUSA.
